GOOD SPUD SEED
FROM OREGON FOR MASON VALLEY

GROWERS BELIEVE THAT SEASON WILL BE GOOD ONE FOR NEVADA SPUDS

Ambro Rosaschi, the largest potato grower in this section, came down from his East Walker ranch yesterday and continued on his way to Portland, Ore., where he will lay in a supply of fresh, new seed potatoes.

For the past two seasons potato growing has not been up to the average in this section. Two years ago the edworm scare kept the price of spuds down to a figure where there was little money in the business, and last year's drop and prices were not up to the expectations of the growers here. Mr. Rosaschi figures that California is going to be a pretty wet section this coming spring, especially in the potato growing sections, and that the 1914 crop in Nevada ought to be worth money, especially as the cities of San Francisco and San Diego will have to feed a host of people in 1915 and will need all the Nevada spuds they can get. He predicts good prices for good spuds, and is going into the business himself on quite an extensive scale.

There is also a proposition being considered whereby the best of our potatoes may find their way to the Chicago and New York markets for fine quality goods. This plan is to put fancy sorted Nevada spuds up in half-bushel or bushel crates, the same as apples and oranges are packed, and ship to these markets, where it is said there will be a ready sale for our tubers at prices that pay well. This would be a great advertisement for the state, and if the scheme can be financed and started, it will no doubt be a lasting business. It is a proposition worth boosting along. —Yerington Times

SELECTING TIMBER
FOR LAWMAKERS
IN THIS STATE

TOO MANY JOHNNY COME LATELY FOUND IN NEVADA LEGISLATURE

In an address at the cattlemen's banquet last week Geo. Wingfield among other things urged upon them to be more attentive to the duty of selecting and electing competent men to fill offices in Nevada, says the Reno Gazette.

He said it has frequently happened that some persons come to Nevada for a divorce, and after a residence here of about seven months, comes out for public office, and especially this is true of the men aspiring to the state legislature. A great many things are in need of attention in this state and the cattlemen's association can do a world of good with their organization.

"Seven members of the last legislature left the state within 90 days after the session ended," said Wingfield. "You cannot get results by sending men of this class to Carson to make your laws. You foot the bills and you should pay a little attention to the selection of capable men who have the interests of the state at heart, for public office."

"It would not be a bad idea if the next legislature repealed at least one-half the laws now on the statute books and then adjourn not to meet again for twenty years. All business interests should stand together and labor for the common good of the state. Results can be secured only through the effecting of organizations, and without an organized effort the result will be scattering."

If you bought nothing but advertised goods during the next twelve months, you'd reduce the cost and raise the standard of living—surprisingly!

BUTLER THEATER

The program at the Butler theater this evening is one of great interest, as follows: "The Price of Human Lives," an Edison, produced in cooperation with the national association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis. A powerful story showing the evil of the fake "cure" for tuberculosis. Poverty-stricken sufferers are deluded by these unscrupulous manufacturers into spending their hard earned pennies for this worthless stuff. See what one noble-minded girl accomplished with one of these preying wolves—her own father. "Pi-ano Manufacturing," a Kalem educational; "The Hazard of Youth," a Lubin drama; "Mother Love vs. Gold," a Selig; "General Bunko's Victory," a Kalem comedy. Tomorrow, "Pathe weekly No. 3, showing all current events, and "The Auto Bandits of New York." Warner's feature in three reels, Saturday afternoon all the children are invited to be guests of the Butler.
